Why we exist

We protect people from the devastation of uninsured and hit-and-run driving.

MIB is a not-for-profit organisation founded in 1946 on the belief that no one whose life had been changed by an uninsured driver should be left without the support they deserve.

Today that has grown into a community of people and organisations tirelessly working to protect people from the devastation of uninsured and hit-and-run driving. We do it by compensating victims quickly, fairly and compassionately, and getting uninsured and hit-and-run drivers off our roads until it becomes a thing of the past.

Our work and impact stretch further too, through the services we manage for the insurance industry and the government.

The Insurance Fraud Bureau brings together insurers, partners and law enforcement agencies in the fight against fraud.

On behalf of the UK government, Official Injury Claim makes it quick and easy to claim compensation after a road accident.

ELTO helps anyone affected by a work-related illness or injury quickly find their employer's insurer information.

Our principles

At a time when the needs of our members and partners are always changing, it's often how we get there that makes our biggest achievements possible.

The shared ways of thinking and behaving we call the MIB Principles guide and inform everything we do.

Customer first

We put our customers at the heart of everything we do, always looking to understand their needs and build trusted relationships to make a positive difference. We're transparent, we work with integrity and strive to get it right first time, every time.

Think BIG

We empower our people to innovate, evolve and continually improve. We challenge each other to think beyond today, to think outside the norm and find new ways to improve. With our different skills, personalities and experiences, we make change possible.

Inspire

You don't have to be a leader to inspire the people around you. The work we do and how we do it should inspire those around us. By aiming high and being our best selves, we encourage and support each other with trust, openness and our shared desire to make a difference.

People and planet

We're all about making a positive impact on people and the planet. And when you join us, you'll have plenty of chances to help do good in the world.

We're committed to six of the United Nations Global Goals for Sustainable Development. And, we're proud members of the United Nations Global Compact Network (UK).

People and the community

At MIB, Belonging, Inclusion, Diversity and Equity (BIDE) are top priorities. We're committed to closing the gender pay gap and report openly, including through the Women in Finance Charter. Our employee networks embody our BIDE principles, fostering inclusivity for everyone. Through Goodness, our engagement programme, we support causes like UnityMK, volunteer work, and environmental efforts.

Climate action and the environment

Our team plays a crucial role in driving sustainability at work and in the community. In 2022, we improved our Milton Keynes head office, cutting greenhouse gas emissions by 70%. By investing in certified carbon removal projects in 2023, our head office became carbon neutral. We'll keep reducing emissions across our estate and supporting our team to make positive changes at work and home.

Early intervention through education

We're committed to ending uninsured driving by focusing on early education. Teaming up with the PSHE Association, we've co-created resources for teachers to improve awareness among future drivers. Partnering with The Safety Centre, Hazard Alley, we aim to reach 1,000 young people a year. Together, we can enhance road-safety knowledge and awareness among young people, making roads safer for everyone.

The beginning of the end for uninsured driving

Accelerating to Zero is our commitment to end uninsured driving for good. This is what we're going to deliver in 2026 to start making it a reality:

We'll make powerful shifts to end uninsured driving for good

Uninsured driving causes devastating harm – and too often it's preventable. In 2026, we'll use new insight to understand exactly who drives uninsured, and why. And we'll reach young and new drivers with better education, while continuing to push for stronger penalties to get those who knowingly endanger others off the road.

We'll help even more people rebuild their lives

No one hit by an uninsured or hit-and-run driver should go without the support they deserve. That's why we handle every claim quickly, fairly and compassionately. In 2026, we'll continue to improve every part of the claims journey and we'll explore new partnerships and training opportunities so more people can benefit.

We'll make sure data drives the good we do

Behind safer roads lies reliable, secure and timely data. We'll work with the insurance industry to develop robust data standards, pilot real-time insurance checks with councils, and introduce technology that lets insurers upload data directly to us.

We'll get ahead of the connected and self-driving vehicle revolution

How people travel is changing – from e-scooters to connected and self-driving cars. We'll work with the government, industry and car manufacturers to make sure the law keeps pace, and to define what data can securely be shared to make roads safer. And we'll keep pressing for clear rules on safe e-scooter use.
